

New Services for Elderly People

It can be troublesome for elderly people to drive a car for a long time. For this reason, more hospitals have started offering the shared busses. Some elderly people choose hospitals that provide those services. In this way, they can see their doctors more easily. Such services are becoming available even in places such as shopping centers and fitness clubs.

Your story should begin with this sentence: One morning, Mr. Sonoda and Mrs. Sonoda were talking about the new fitness club.
