

Convenience Stores

There are many convenience stores in Japan. They are often seen near stations. Many people use for buying food and drinks, so they visit convenience stores during their lunch time.

