

This is the story about a woman who was interested in volunteering.

Your story should begin with the following sentence:

One day, a woman was looking at a poster with her husband.

Narration Example

One day, a woman was looking at a poster with her husband. She said, “I want to join this event.” Her husband smiled and agreed that it was a good idea. That weekend, they went to the park with gloves and trash bags. The woman picked up many plastic bottles and cans from the ground. She was happy to see other volunteers working hard too. Three hours later, after they finished, a volunteer leader came over to thank them. He said, “This park looks much better now.” A few weeks later they visited the park again and found trash scattered everywhere. The woman looked worried and wondered what she could do to solve the problem.

Please look at the fourth picture. If you were the woman, what would you be thinking?

解答例

I'd be thinking about how to stop people from littering again. First, I would make posters to remind people to keep the park clean. I would also talk with the local government to organize another clean-up event.

Should people stop buying fast fashion clothes to protect the environment?

解答例 (Noの場合)

No, fast fashion allows people to enjoy fashion trends at reasonable prices. It also provides many jobs in the clothing industry. Instead of stopping completely, companies should focus on using eco-friendly materials. In this way, people can protect the environment and still enjoy fashion.

These days, many people take short videos of daily life for social media. Do you think that short videos will replace traditional TV programs in the future?

解答例 (Noの場合)

No, TV programs offer higher quality and deeper stories. People still enjoy watching news, dramas, and sports on big screens. Short videos are fun, but they cannot replace all kinds of media. Therefore, both will continue to exist together.
